Rosemary's Health Foods is an established, family-run retail business currently undergoing a period of planned growth.

When a potential new shop site is found, Fusion acts as wide-ranging consultant: assessing the premises, advising on possible layout options and producing outline designs. Where the property is considered suitable, a comprehensive service is provided incorporating contract administration, costing advice and overseeing legal matters.

In such a fast-moving sector, Fusion are also instrumental in the smooth introduction of new services. For example, the innovative Vit-a-min concept is designed to accelerate service time and create better storage and display solutions.

What the client said: "Our strategy is to expand significantly, offering greater choice to our customers. Fusion plays a critical role in managing costs and ensuring we are ready to open on time."
